

Steps to Ask for Temporary Orders Only in a Divorce without Children

Instructions:

Follow these steps to ask for Temporary Orders only.

Do not use these instructions if you need a Temporary Restraining Order (TRO).

Forms Included:

- Motion for Temporary Orders
- Order to Appear
- Proposed Support Decision and Information
- Temporary Orders

Talk to a lawyer if you have questions.

Step 1: Fill out these forms.

- Motion for Temporary Orders
- Order to Appear

Note: You will ask the Court to sign the Order to Appear form to order the other party to come to your temporary orders hearing. If you're asking for temporary spousal support, attach a blank Proposed Support Decision and Information form to your Order to Appear form.

Step 2: Make copies of the Motion. Make a copy for yourself and each party listed in the Petition you or the other party filed to start your case. A copy machine is located at the Law Library. Copies are 20 cents per page and the copy machines accept silver change and $1 bills.

Step 3: Take completed forms to the Tarrant County Family Law Center – 200 E. Weatherford St., Fort Worth, Texas 76196.

File your Motion for Temporary Orders with the clerk. The clerk will keep your original and stamp and return your copies to you. Ask the clerk where to go to ask the Court to sign your Order to Appear form.

File the Order to Appear. Ask the clerk to issue the paperwork necessary to have the other party or parties in your case personally served with your Motion for Temporary Orders and the Order to Appear. If the other party or parties live in Tarrant County, ask the clerk to forward the paperwork to a Tarrant County Constable. If the other party or parties don't live in Tarrant County, get information on service outside of Tarrant County at the Tarrant County Law Library. Unless you are low-income and file a Statement of Inability to Afford Court Costs, you must pay issuance and service fees. You may get the Statement of Inability to Afford Court Costs form from the Law Library.

Step 4: Prepare for your temporary orders hearing.

Ask a lawyer to help you get ready. A lawyer can help you get ready by:

- explaining the law and how it applies to the facts in your case;
- telling you what the Judge expects;
- giving you advice about the best strategy for your case;
- determining the most helpful evidence to present in your case;
- preparing you to testify;
- helping you decide what witnesses to bring;
- preparing questions to ask your witnesses and the other party in court;
- writing proposed orders that are unique to your situation; and/or
- helping you reach an agreement with the other party before the hearing.

Fill out the Proposed Support Decision and Information form if you or the other party are asking for temporary spousal support. Bring the completed form and at least 2 copies to the temporary orders hearing. You must give a copy of the completed form to the Judge and the other party before the hearing starts.

Fill out the Temporary Orders form. Ask a lawyer to review your form. Please be aware that the Law Library employees are not allowed to review forms.

Practice what you want to say to the Judge. Make a list of the orders you want and practice saying them. Try not to take more than 3 minutes to say what you want. If possible, go to the courthouse and observe a temporary orders hearing. Court proceedings are usually open to the public.

Make a Trial Notebook. A notebook will help you organize your thoughts and paperwork so that you can present your case to the court more effectively. You may want to include the following in your notebook:

- A list of specific orders you want the Judge to make.
- A list of what you want to tell the Judge when you testify.
- A list of questions to ask the other party in front of the Judge.
- A list of questions to ask your witnesses.
- Any evidence, such as pictures or documents, you would like to show the Judge. (Talk to a lawyer about how to properly introduce your evidence.)

If it's safe, talk to the other side before court. Make a list of the issues you agree on and those you need the Judge to decide.

Step 5: Go to your Temporary Orders Hearing.

Dress neatly. Don't wear shorts, t-shirts with inappropriate words or pictures, tank tops or flip-flops.

Get to the courthouse at least 30 minutes early. You will need to find parking, get through security, and find the correct courtroom.

Bring:

- Money for parking (parking meters accept coins and credit cards only, not dollars).
- A copy of the paperwork you filed with the court.
- Your completed Proposed Support Decision and Information form.
- Your trial notebook.
- Extra paper and pens.
- Any witnesses you would like to testify at the hearing.
- Any evidence, such as pictures or documents, you would like to show the Judge (Talk to a lawyer about how to properly introduce your evidence in court)

Don't bring: weapons or children. (Children can be a distraction from the important events taking place and many topics that come up are inappropriate for children to hear. If you must bring children, bring someone with you who can watch them outside the courtroom).

Find your courtroom. If you are unsure ask the deputies at the front door.

While in the courtroom:

- Sit quietly. Watch and listen. This will help you when it's your turn.
- Turn off all cell phones or other electronics (or they may be taken away from you.)
- Don't chew gum or bring food or drinks into the courtroom.
- Stand up when the Judge enters or exits the courtroom.

When it's your turn to be heard:

- Address the Judge as "Your Honor." Stand up when you talk to the Judge (unless you're in the witness stand).
- Be ready to tell the Judge exactly what orders you want. If you get nervous just read from your list.
- Be able to explain why you want those orders. Focus on what is most important.
- Try to control your emotions so that you can tell your story in a way that is understandable.
- When the other side is talking to the Judge, do not interrupt or react by sighing or gesturing. This will hurt your case. Even if you think the other side is being dishonest, wait until it's your turn to talk.
- Be respectful towards the Judge and everyone else in the courtroom at all times.
- If you have a question about how to proceed, ask the Judge.

When the hearing is over, be ready to write down the Judge's decision. Use your list to see if the Judge has made orders about all of the issues you wanted the Judge to decide. Let the Judge know that you have a proposed temporary orders form. The Judge may decide to use your form or may decide to use another form. The Judge may also ask you to hire an attorney to write the temporary orders.
